Ascension is the brainchild of Dutch producer Yigal Roos who worked with leading artists from the European underground circuit. Today he is performing and releasing his own unique blend of electronic music under the name Ascension. Ascension blends elements of classic house, techno and eclectic influences into a highly danceable experience. Working from his studio in the center of Amsterdam, he regularly livestreams on Youtube and Twitch. These livestreams are released as mixtapes. The artist says: 'Ascension allows me to operate outside traditional boundaries and put myself into states of creativity without thinking in terms of rules. My goal is to create a living experience for the listener whereby they can keep discovering new elements in my songs. I carry this through in my live shows which are set up organically, allowing me to perform and remix the songs in ever changing ways - essentially making each performance a jam session and keeping the experience fresh'.

He says: 'Ascension is a culmination of my background growing up in the 80's and 90's with the advent of modern day clubbing, freedom of expression as well as the liberal and cultural roots of the city of Amsterdam. Even though Ascension is essentially a one man act, I strive to collaborate with talents from all over the world'. Case in point is his 2022 self released 'Aja Savaria' where he worked with Indian traditional singer Samhita Mundkur fusing traditional Hindi chants with modern day electronics. He also collaborated with Portuguese singer Gauri on the EP 'Peak Beyond' - a release rooted in an ecstatic, psychedelic mixture of sounds which got featured in the highly respected German Magazine 'Faze Music'.
